

An update for Trainee Pathologists in Gynaecological Pathology
Thursday 15th November 2018

Staff House – Michael Tippet Room
University of Birmingham
Birmingham B15 2TT

The programme consists of invited lectures and slide seminars suitable for trainees who have some experience of reporting gynaecological pathology. The lecturers are experienced gynaecological pathologists with an interest in teaching. The programme will cover salient areas of gynaecological pathology and include uncommon cases. The digitalized slides will be available for 4 weeks after the course to aid revision.

Programme

0900 – 0915

Registration

0915 – 0945

An overview of glandular lesions of the cervix

A lecture on commonly encountered glandular lesions and an update on non-HPV related glandular lesions.

Dr Anthony Williams, Birmingham

0945 – 1045

Slide seminar – cervical glandular lesions

Dr Anthony Williams, Birmingham

Comfort break, teas and coffees 1045 – 1115

1115 -1215

Slide seminar - A pot-pourri of cases

Dr Raji Ganesan, Birmingham

Lunch 1215 – 1310

Course Organiser - Dr Raji Ganesan

1310 - 1340

Lecture – Non-epithelial ovarian tumours - an update and approach to diagnosis
Dr Mike Coutts, Kent

1340 – 1440

Slide seminar – non epithelial ovarian neoplasms
Dr Mike Coutts, Kent

1440 - 1510

Lecture: Precancerous lesions of endometrial carcinoma
Professor Oluwole Fadare, San Diego

Tea break 1510 – 1540

1540 – 1640

Slide seminar
Professor Oluwole Fadare, San Diego

Course fees: Trainees: £75.00

Registration details available on:
<https://www.thebagp.org/events/list/>
or email: info@thebagp.org